

DUKE HEALTH IMAGING
CELEBRATES
National Radiologic Technology Week 2021
November 7-13

Monday 11/8

7:30a- Cody Malley, PA, Orthopaedic Injuries of the Knee and Shoulder

3:00p- Jennifer Freedman PhD, Genes that Influence Cancer Disparities

Tuesday 11/9

7:30a- Don Frush, MD, Wisely "Spending" the Currency of Radiation Use with our Patients

3:00p- Karen Johnson, MD, Alphabet Soup: The Nitty Gritty of Breast Cancer

Wednesday 11/10

7:30a- Terrance Wong, MD, Patient-centered PET/CT Imaging

12:00n- Nicole Lafata, MS, DABR, Digital Radiography: Image Acquisition and Technique

3:00p- James Voyvodic, Ph.D., Quality Control and Reproducibility in fMRI

Thursday 11/11

7:30a- Sanne Henninger, MSW (LCSW), Emotional Intelligence (EQ) for Communication with Co-workers

3:00p- Nicole Lafata, MS, DABR, Digital Radiography: Image Quality and Post-Processing

Friday 11/12

7:30a- Benjamin Wildman-Tobriner, MD, Challenging GI Cases

3:00p- Kenneth Lyles, MD, An Update on Dual Energy X-ray Absorptiometry (DXA)